NEAR SIGHTED PROPLE.

New York Optician Explains the Causes "In no other city in the world can be found so many people afflicted with my-opia or near sightedness as right here in New York," said a Broadway optician a New York," said a Broadway optician a few days since.

"To what do you attribute the prevalence of this partial blindness?"

"Near sightedness arises from a number of causes, chief among which are reading in the dusk of the evening, or fatiguing the eyes in trying to read oy aid of a bad artificial illumination; reading while in a lying position, or with the head thrust too far forward: the perusing of blurred or slovenly printed books, or matter printed in a very small type. All these and many other things conduce to a gradual decrease in the power of vision, and if too greatly persisted in will finally end in the total destruction of the sight.

"The principal cause of the prevalence of short sightedness (among our business men at least), is the perincious habit so largely indulged in of reading newspapers while riding in the surface cars or omnibuses. The jolting or swaying motion of the car or 'bus causes an unsteadiness of hand, which makes the type ap-ness of hand, which makes the type ap-pear blurred and uncertain. The steadier easy motion of the cars on the elevated roads has done much toward the preservation of the eyesight of those who find that they must read while en route and who patronize the erial mode of transit."

"When does one become conscious of failing visual power?" was asked.
"One first begins to discover that he is losing his keenness of vision when the signs along the streets and distant objects are not easily discernible without a conscious effort, accompanied by a painful straining and extension of the pupil. When one is convinced that his eyesight is fail-ing him he should not delay a moment before consulting an oculist."
"Is not near sightedness sometimes hereditary?"

"I believe hereditary influence to be of great effect in causing short sight. I have known large families, whose members, from the youngest to the oldest, were afflicted with weak eyes or a too short range of vision. The sight can be preserved and prevented from growing poorer only by the use of proper glasses at the proper time. A dangerous mistake at the proper time. A dangerous mistake too often made, is that of wearing glasses which are either too weak or what is worse, too strong for the requirement of

TO COOL WATER.

The Egyptian Mode of Doing It, and an Fffective One.

I need state only three facts to show the rapidity of evaporation in Upper Egypt.
Water too warm to drink is put into a porous jar and placed in the wind, though in the sun; in a half hour it is as cool as good spring water. At night, exposed to a breeze, even when the breeze is rather warm, before morning it becomes almost

The night of my arrival here I took a pouring bath on a balcony. The wind was balmy, but fresh. The rapid evaporation so chilled me that I could not stay out long enough for my bath.

At the foot of the cataract we took a swim in the Nile. We wore our under-clothes for bathing suits. We hung them up before our state-rooms to dry.

We have all heard of the universal habit of all Africans to anoint themselves with oil, and travelers speak of it as a nasty habit. It is, however, necessary in very hot and very dry climates to prevent the cracking of the skin. An English officer told me that during the hot winds on the Upper Nile his face and hands chapped worse than they ever do in a cold climate-chapped even to bleeding badly.

I have found fresh, white butter quite as pleasant on my hands as on my toast.

The boys have felt no inconvenience from the winds. My hands are very sensitive to the effect of a dry, dusty atmosphere. At Assouan we were in the sun during two days. We did not use our umbrellas, our pith hats being quite com-fortable, and yet we were just on the edge of the tropics.—Carter Harrison.

ILLUSTRATING VOCAL PROGRESS. Synopsis of Exposition of the Holt Sys-tem of Musical Instruction.

Frank Damrosch delivered in New York recently a lecture on "The Best Methods of Vocal Instruction in Our Schools."

The discourse, which consisted of an exposition of the Holt system of musical instruction, was filustrated by 21 little tots from the Workingmen's School of the Society of Ethnical Culture, who had been under instruction about eight months.

The Holt system is founded upon the principle of rhythm, which Mr. Damrosch defined as a mental conception, the regular recurrence of accented sounds.

The principle as applied to the music score was demonstrated by the use of a pendulum operated by the speaker. The varied oscillations of this instrument marked the different templ and took the place of beating time by hand, which was considered detrimental to the pupil's progress by reason of the motion of the hand attracting the pupil's attention at the expense of the ear, which should be kept free from any detracting influence.

Let common sense decide as to corsets.

A weak, nervous woman who feels best in loose wrappers cannot judge for a robust girl who really enjoys the trim set of her corset, and takes no harm from it. It is painful, however, and unsuitable to see active housekeepers going about morning, noon and night in close-fitting dresses and corsets.

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS The following platform and resolutions were adopted by the Republican State Convention, which convened at Winnemucca on the 15th instant:

The Republicans of the State of Nevada, in Convention assembled, again express their loyalty to the principles of the Republican party, which have made this country so great and prosperous during the last quarter of a century.

RESOLVED, That the question of a sufficient apply of circulating medium to maintain a permanent range of the price of labor and property is the most important political question awaiting solution by the American people.

reduces the price of labor and property, enriches the creditor, impovershes the debtor, and paralyzes industry and enterprise.

That the present financial system of the United States, which increases or diminshee the circulating medium at the pleasure of the manipulators of the national banks, without regard to the increase of population or the wants of the people, and which recognizes gold alone as the standard of value, and places in the hands of the Treasury Department all the revenue of the Government to speculate with in bonds and loan to the national banks without interest, is subsersive of the rights of the people, oppressive, unjust and should be repudiated. That a financial policy whereby both gold and allyer shall form the basis of circulation, whether the money used by the people be coin, or coin certificates redeemable in coin, or both, as convenience may require is imperatively demanded.

That the attempt to substitute national bank notes, costing the Government millions of dollars annually, for free allver, costing nothing, is an outrage up-n the recopie; that the money ring or trust, which has usurped the sovereign power of the Government to issue money, and which has rrauduently demanded silver and seried the revenues of the Government for private speculation, shocks the moral sense of the people and destroyed, and equal rights be restored to all the people.

We charge that President Cleveland is the willing tool or agent of a powerful money ring, which fattens on the subsidies of the Government, borrows the revenues raised by t. xation and uses them without the payment of interest, contracts the cur ency to enhance the value of bonds, and enriched unsurers, while it depresses the price of labor and property.

That we favor the nomination of no man or President who is personally interested in national banks or the bonded indebtedness of the United States, but we demand a candidate who is free to do justice to all the people of the country—the poor as well as the rich.

That the trick of the Pres silver amendment to the Bond Purchase bill, equals the villainy of the secret and readulent demonetisation of silver in 1873.

RESOLVED, That we are in favor of the protection of home industry, and that the laborer of this country have a right to all the work required to supply the people of the United States, and that we are in favor of high wages, and to that end will protect the wage-workers from competition with the cheap labor of other lands.

RESOLVED, That the policy of the Government should be inaugurated and established by the p ople torough their representatives in both Houses of Congress, and not by the President or money trust, of which he, either as agent or head, is most active in defending.

We charge President Cleveland with violating every promise he made in favor of civil service reform, with crippling the mail service, with refusing to aign necessary bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors, with using the power of his administration to prevent appropriations for navy and coast defenses, with attempting to deatroy the protective tariff, with courting the good will of other nations at the expense of the citizens of the nited States, and with joining the foreign bondholders to definentize silver and destroy the ladustries of his own country, and ior the reduction of the wages of the Mint employee at Carson, for closing the Carson Mint when it was not only self-sustaining but a source of revenue to the Government, for his contemptions vetoes of bills for the relief of disabled soldiers and sallors, and for falling to construct the Government building at Carson as required by law.

We are in favor of the absolute exclusion of Chinese, and of the restriction of immigration by which the overcharged condition of the labor market is made worse, and we favor legislation by which a revision of our naturalization and land laws may be no-complished.

Vedemand in behalf of our various in

We demand in behalf of our various in dustries the retention of the duties on lead borax, soda, hides and leather, and to restore the tariff of leff on wool.

RESOLVED, That we recognize the right of labor to organize for its lawful protection.

VII. We favor the appropriations by Congre for hydrographical and topographical so veys in this State, to the end that the was waters may be preserved for the purpose irrigation.

We endorse the wise and conservative administration of Governor Stevenson, and we heartily commend the able efforts of Senators Jones and Stewart and Representative woodburn in behalf of the interests of this State.

BATES OF ADVENTISING

> FOR PRESIDENT. BENJAMIN HARRISON, Of Indiana. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT. LEVI P. MORTON,

Is ir not about time that the Democrats called off a little attention from Mr. Thurman's bandana to Mr. Thurman himself. He was strongly opposed by the Ohio Democrats at St. Louis and his popularity in the convention came from abroad. Without questioning the sincerity of the aged m's motives these few facts may well be borne in mind concerning him. When beaten by Hayes for Governor of Ohio in 1867, Mr. Thurman received the smallest number of votes of any man upon the ticket he headed. He drew no personal following after him, and never had personal popularity amongst other parties because he has always been a Bourbon of the most pronounced type. He was for slavery and against the war; he opposed emancipation and during the struggle of those days gave to copperheads his ardent sympathy and pro-nounced support. Since the war he has been a consistent Democratic obstructionist and was hostile to the resumption of specific payments. Finally he is to-day mounted behind the obese Cleveland upon the free trade mule. It certainly is easier for the Democracy to hurrah for a handkerchief than to explain or discuss these truths.

SIXTY-Two is the retiring age in the army and navy. Most men consider themselves entitled to retire from active business life before reaching three-score years, and a great many wear themselves out and die long before reaching that age. In view of these facts it is interesting to note the ages of the four men who are now so prominently before the people. Cleveland is the youngest of the four. He is only forty-one. Harrison is fiftyfive, Morton sixty-five and Thurman seventy-five All are past what is generally considered the prime and vigor of life, yet all are vigorous and progressive men. The ages average a little more than sixty-one. Before the next Presidential term shall be over each of these men will be five years older and the average age will be increased to more than sixty-six. There are many instances of old but vigorous statesmen in Europe, but it is generally taken for granted that in America men wear out more rapidly than in the older countries. The ages of the candidates in the present campaign have a tendency to disprove this

THE Democrats, says the Enterprise, are getting more of the Chinese question than they bargained for. It is now understood by everybody that General Harrison baving visited the Coast and looked at the places occupied by the Chinese, became an avowed enemy to further immigration. It is also known that Mr. Cleveland had the best restriction bill ever presented smothered. As the Democrats are in need of campaign illustration, it is respectfully suggested that Mr. Cleveland presenting the treaty full of flaws, printed on a free trade bandana, to the Chinese Emperor would make a good design for the frontispiece of the Democratic explanation of his position on the silver question.

THE police of the Chickasaw Nation are searching travelers passing through by rail and taking away their revolvers, etc. It is commonly accepted law and usage throughout the United States that statutes against the carrying of concealed weapons do not apply to travelers. The motive of the Chickasaws is fear of an outbreak and armed resistance by non-citizen cattleen to the collection of the stock tax of $I a month per capita, equal, in the course of the year to the value of the stock. Such a tax is equivalent to a notice to leave the Territory and is undoubtedly imposed with that object in view. Interloping cattlemen have for years been a nuisance in the In-tian nation.

Toano, Elko Co., Nev., June 30. EDITOR GAZETTE: - Yesterday I imped off the Central Pacific passenger train at this station and was met by Mr. E. C. Hardy of the "Oasis Ranch," at the Railroad House, Mr. A. W. Gobble proprietor, and after a short stop was soon on my way behind two fine horses, over a well-beaten road, to the above ranch, some seventeen miles south of the Central Pacific railroad. The valley through which we drove is fully 300 miles long, reaching all the way to the Colorado river, and is bounded by the Goshute mountains on the west and the Hardy mountains on the east side. It is a very inviting valley, and one in which I think much money will yet be accumulated by industrious husbandmen. There is no question in my mind but that eventually artesian wells in abundance will dot its rich soil and make it, in its entirety, as blooming as the ranch I am about to describe The Oasis Ranch is owned by E. C. Hardy, one of the best known horsemen in Nevada, and embraces over 2,000 acres of rich bottom land, most of which are under cultivation. From my observations I inferred that all be found in his well stored library. these lands had once been the bed of a great inland sea. As it is at present water can be obtained in almost any part of them at an average depth of from two and one-half to eighteen feet. At a depth of three or four feet there is an underlying strata of a clavish formation which retains moisture marvelously. Hence, I concluded that alfalfa, when carefully sown and plant for cattle purposes and proposes to sow his broad acres with greater quantities of it in the near future.

There is no question but that good results must follow, and that not only alfalfa, but rye, oats, wheat and grasses will be produced here in and grasses will be produced here in abundance. The latter grows wild abundance. The latter grows wild and in great quantities here. Small fields of alfalfa, Australian rye grass, red-top and timothy have been sown the present year and judging from ap-pearances give promise of rich yields. The company propose to sow at least 100 acres annually with alfalfa so as to into various sections. The first inclosure lies near the family residence. It is already a thing of beauty, and is used as a pasturage for a fine lot of brood mares and black mooley cattle.

The second is reserved for winter purposes where the general stock browse in the meadows at their will. There is an extensive section of a third inclosure in which they are cultivating tame an extensive section of a third inclosure in which they are cultivating tame grasses, growing vegetables, potatoes and all cereals appertaining to a well-regulated farm. In some places I noticed rye grass that stood from two to four feet high and which looked very rich indeed.

To the south of the home ranch I noticed a natural well of boiling water which forms a small lake of great advantage to the company. However, since they have allowed their immense bands of cattle to graze about its margin the water does not seem to coze out of the surrounding surface in such large quantities as heretofore. Some twelve miles still further south of this they own 160 acres of rich land on which there are two lakes that cover an area of at least eighty acres. These two bodies of water are formed by hot water rising in the very heart of the valley. In winter time horses and cattle go wild over the healthy draughts they take hereabouts, as every cattleman knows how beneficial warm water is for them. What in the name of common sense can prevent a marcessaful application of the artesian warm water is for them. What in the name of common sense can prevent a successful application of the artesian well apparatus to this locality I cannot fathom. I assert, and know I can prove, that all the water needed can be found and utilized here for irrigating purposes the most sanguine could hope for, and that those enterprising enough to undertake the experiment will realize profits of the most astonishing character. In the largest of these two lakes which is know as Flower lake, nimrods catch carp from 12 to 20 inches in length and they are a very delicious variety at that.

But I have dwelt already too lengthily on the possibilities of this soil. Let me direct your readers' attention to the home of this industrious and enterprising gentleman. His dwellinghouse is a large, two-story building, 32x42 feet in dimensions. It is very happily arranged. In it is combined a dairy, kitchen, woodshed, store room or sitting room, however, your fancy is at once driven back to the old-time brick fire-places of the East, and you feel perfectly at home in their presence. On the second story there is a model school house in which his children, as well as those of his neighbors, are educated. He is the father of eleven children, five boys and six girls. Besides, he is grandpa of twelve, and no man in Nevada is prouder of the distinction. The outhouses are composed of a well reguprouder of the distinction. The outhouses are composed of a well regulated blacksmith and carpenter shop, 20x40 feet, while several as well apportioned corrals as I have seen anywhere attract your attention. They cover an area of at least five acres and have in their immediate vicinity two very pleasant stables wherein are kept his ponderous Norman and handsome Percheron stallions. These extra and selected specimens of equine excellence will accommodate not less than 150 mares that are lineal descendants of Messenger, Morgan and Dexter. Among these can be seen a great variety of drivers too. Some of these horses had sires that cost as much as one dollar per pound, and their propahorses had sires that cost as much as one dollar per pound, and their propagation here bids fair to place Nevada in the front rank of the racing world in a few short years. He has a mammoth wind mill, 8x8 feet, which supplies two improper tanks the water plies two immense tanks, the water from which answers every purpose de-sired. In fact, everything about the whole place indicates the thrift, intelligence and economy of the native born, Yankee farmer, who, no matter

His worst mishap was not that ex-perienced among the Bannocks in company with Lieutenant Phil. Sheripearances give promise of rich yields. The company propose to sow at least 100 acres annually with alfalfa so as to demonstrate the feasibility of the proposition that a moist bottom land will prove very productive—of which there is apparently no question. Fifteen miles of wire fence inclose these lands, but the main area is divided into various sections. The first inscended in the company with Lieutenant Phil. Volcanie State of Affairs in the Balkan States.

LONDON, July 2.-A French officer of the Engineer Corps, who has just returned from a tour of the Balkan States, whose name is withheld at his request, says to-day that the continued massing of Austrian and Russian troops on their frontiers is due more to the volcanic state of affairs in the to the volcanic state of affairs in the Balkan States rather than to any immediate danger of a rupture of friendly relations from any other cause than that which might possibly be precipitated by a formidable uprising in one or all of the Balkan States. These States at present are filled with revolutionary plots, which condition extends even to Herzigovina, Bosnio and Transylvania. The revolutionists, who number among them many old and experienced military officers, are daily receiving strength both in men and money. Even the peasants in these States weekly subscribe their mite to the Revolutionary Fund, and as they have just grievances against their respective Governments they believe they are doing a noble and patriotic act by contributing toward the ends of the swolutionists.

The pro-Russian feeling is evident in all these States, and frequent appeals have been made by the people to the Czar for relief.

The Austrian Government has just added fuel to the flame by the forcible amalgamation of small farms in Transylvania, an act which is coercion of the worst character. The Austrian Government has adopted measure after measure against the Roumanians. They recently appealed to King Charles of Roumania to use his good offices with Austria in their behalf, and receiving no answer they appealed to the Czar. The order for the amalgamation of small farms was undoubtedly issued as punishment for their efforts to secure a peaceful abiding place in the homes they have had for years. Balkan States rather than to any im-

Colonel Hobert G. Ingersell Pre-dicts the Election of the Re-publican Ticket.

NEW YORK, July 1.-Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, who was interviewed today, predicts the election of the Republican Presidential ticket. On being asked his opinion of Harrison be said: Harrison is a good lawyer, and a thoughtful and conservative man. He will give the country an excellent administration. I think, too, the more that is known about him the more popular be will become. I rethe more that is known about him the more popular he will become. I regard him as a growing candidate. The enthusiasm was not all generated before the nominations and expended the same day. The more people think about it the more anxious they will be to secure his election. The campaign will go right ahead with increasing enthusiasm, and the ticket will roll up the largest vote in November.

Fourth of July Fires.

The several insurance agents in town have received circulars, a copy of which is appended, which contains suggestions which should be heeded by our people. The circular reads: Each recurring Fourth of July anniversary with its bombs, of July anniversary with its bombs, rockets and fire crackers, burns a big hole in the money bags of the insurance companies; with just a little care beforehand, much of this waste can be avoided. Of course Young America must be indulged in this annual racket, but if roofs, streets and yards are wet down thoroughly, and all rubbish cleaned up beforehand, and the department hose and village engine put in shape for practical use, many fires, even confiagrations, may be averted.

George H. Morrison, Supreme Representative to the Supreme Lodge of the Kuights of Pythias, which recently convened in Cincinnatti, returned from his pilgrimage last evening, and proceeded to the Comstock this morning. In conversation with a GAZETTE representative, Mr. Morrison said that the nominees of the Chicago Convention-Harrison and Mortongreatly pleased the people, and that the ticket was enthusiastically received wherever he had been. Continuing, he said: "The nomi-nation of Harrison and Morton is nation of Harrison and Morton is looked upon by the people of the east as a master-stroke of diplo-macy, as it effectually heals the breach heretofore existing in the party, and which was the true reason of the defeat of the party in reason of the detect of the party in 1884. Disgraceful Performance of the Wilber Comedy Company.

The above-named company closed a very successful season at the Mo-Kissick Opera House Saturday evening, having given six performances to overflewing houses. The members of the company had es- gate. tablished themselves as favorites with the patrons of the drama in Reno, and on the occasion of their last performance a crowded house was present to give them a fitting "send off" prior to their departure for Salt Lake. "A Wife's Peril," a most beautiful drama, was the attraction, and as it was considered the best in the extensive repertoire of the company, a treat was ex-pected. Instead, the too-confiding public was treated in a most igno-Mrs. J. K. THE LAST WORD.

How the Wife's Bight Is Maintained. I "I should like to know," said Mr. Rambo, testily, when the conversation had begun to wax warm, "why it is that a woman always wants to have the last word." "She doesn't," replied Mrs. Rambo, "It's a slander."

"It's a slander."
"My dear, it is certainly the truth. You know you always—"
"Absalom, you know better. I don't."
"I am sure—"
"No, you're not. It isn't so."
"Why, my dear, can't you see—"
"No, I can't! And I think—boo hoo—you are—are just as—as mean as you can be."

Well, dear, I'll take it back. You don't always want the last word."
"Of course I don't. I don't see what you wanted to say so for."

"Well, I won't say it any more."
"Because you know it isn't true."

"As well as I do."

"You want it yourself." "And you know it."

"And you know it."

"You may be right, my dear," said Mr.
Rambo, putting on his hat and going out.
"I know I'm right," rejoined Mrs. Rambo, calling after him.—Chicago Tribune.

How Soil Was Made.

Prof. Agassiz says that all the materials Prof. Agassiz says that all the materials on which agriculture depends are decomposed rocks, not so much rocks that underlie the soil, but those on the surface and brought from considerable distances, and ground to powder by the rasp of glaciers. The penetration of water into the rocks, frost, running water and baking suns have done something, but ice vastly more.

In a former age the whole of the United States was covered with ice several thou-sand feet thick, and this ice moving from north to south by the attraction of tropical warmth or pressing weight of ice or snow behind, ground the rocks over which it passed into the paste we call the soil. These masses of ice can be tracked, as surely as the game is tracked by the hun-ter. Among the Alps, glaciers are still in

The stones and rocks ground and pol-ished by the glaciers can easily be distin-guished from those scratched by running water. The angular boulders found in the meadows and terraces of our rivers not reached by water can be accounted for in this way.—Popular Science News.

A widower, whose wife had been the head of the family, ordered a tombstone for her and left it to the good taste of the cutter to put some comforting inscription on the marble besides the name and date. When the stone was put up he went out

The good women who are so busy in re-forming the world have taken up the Doll enormity now, and are to make pub-lic sentiment too warm for it. There is a queer little element of sacredness in the relation between the inanimate

Business Men's Dress. If there ever was a stupid superstition it is that which prevails in some quarters that a well-dressed person cannot be a good "business man."

Slovenly attire does not necessarily indicate application to business. The rusty black frock, cheap necktle, and neglected linen which some well-to-do men assume is generally a badge of inherent meanness or an affectation.
